Fishing Fleet Movements.

Sch. E. B. Holmes, of this port, landed 1000 pounds of halibut at Provincetown Wednesday.

Big Bankers.

Capt. Thomas M. Nicholson of Bucksport, Me., will send a fleet of seven of the finest fishing vessels ever owned in New England by one man, to the Grand Banks this spring. Several of them are nearly ready. The following are the names of the vessels with the assignments of captains and carrying capacity of salt fish.

Sch. Arthur V. S. Woodruff, Capt. John Peterson, 5500 quintals; sch. Ada S. Basson, Capt. Solon Peterson, 4500 quintals; sch. Elizabeth N., Capt. Murdock McInnis, 3500 quintals; sch. A. M. Nicholson, Capt. John McInnis, 3000 quintals; sch. T. M. Nicholson, Capt. Wm. Snowman, 2800 quintals; sch. M. B. Stetson, Capt. Fred. L. Dorr, 2800 quintals; sch. Irvin Leslie, captain not yet assigned, 2500 quintals, making a total of nearly 25,000 quintals.

The first will be cured around Bucksport and shipped to the different markets by vessels and cars, giving a winter's employment to a large force of men and many teams to haul them to the shipping point which in some cases is four miles distant. About 160 men go to the Banks in these seven vessels, the aggregate amount paid them amounting to about $35,000 round numbers. This great industry is of great importance to Bucksport and Capt. Nicholson's business ability and success are greatly appreciated.

MORE MACKEREL.

Sch. Nourmahal Has Fine Fare at New York.

A special dispatch to the TIMES announces the arrival at Fulton Market, New York, on Thursday morning, of the sch. Nourmahal, Capt. Flar McKown, with 150 barrels of fresh medium mackerel. The fish brought 10 cents apiece.

A special to the TIMES states that sch. Priscilla Smith, whose arrival at Philadelphia with a big fare Thursday noon was exclusively reported in Thursday's TIMES, cleaned up her whole trip in the afternoon and sailed at 10 o'clock Friday morning. Mr. F. P. Larkin handled the trip in his usual hustling style.

Sch. Margaret Mather, from Philadelphia, arrived at Delaware Breakwater on Friday.

SOUTH NETTING FLEET.

AT PHILADELPHIA.

Sch. Priscilla Smith Lands Fine Mackerel Fare.

A special to the TIMES this noon announces the arrival at Philadelphia of sch. Priscilla Smith, Capt. William Corkum, with 150 barrels of fresh medium mackerel.

MORE MACKEREL.

New York and Philadelphia Each Receive a Fare.

Good reports still continue from the seining fleet.

A special to the TIMES announces the arrival at Philadelphia, Wednesday afternoon of sch. Margaret Mather, Capt. Albert D. Mallock, with 125 barrels of fresh medium mackerel.

A special to the TIMES from New York gives the arrival at Fulton market this morning of sch. Olga, Capt. John Hickey, with 100 barrels of fresh medium mackerel, which are selling at 12 and 10 cents apiece.

F. P. Larkin handled the fares of schs. Margaret Mather and Grayling at Philadelphia.

FIRST SALT BANK TRIP.

Sch. Robin Hood Arrives With a Good Fare.

Sch. Robin Hood, Capt. Stillman Malone, arrived on Wednesday afternoon from the Peak with the first salt bank cod fare of the season, 90,000 pounds. The schooner sailed from here March 4, being the first to get away, and has not been long in securing her fare in spite of the bad weather. Capt. Malone found fairly good fishing.

Capt. Malone is making quite a record as the opener of the salt bank season, also being the first to go and first to arrive with a fare last season.

Big Bank Cod Price.

The fare of salt bank cod of sch. Robin Hood sold to Cunningham & Thompson at $3.25 per hundred weight for large and $2.75 for medium. This is a big price for the first trip of the year, and shows that the fish are wanted very much.
